Dear Bob-

A whole yr. has gone by (well, almost) and we are still friends (Shak me!) I can't believe all the good times we've had this year! To name a few:

That memorable, perfect, res-placed, absolutely positively perfect at Dickey's (Rank a master) production of "A Remembrance of" (cat us forget).

② During you clear to Reseda when I live in Sylmar (I'd better get to the white house for that one, honey!)

③ A lifetime camaraderie on the beach #2 w/ the whole gang (Elvira & Breather there in spirit...).

④ A med who could forget combat in 2nd period w/ Adolf Hitler, that madman of liberalism, making 7 evils!!!

Yes, there have been good times! And I'm looking forward to a great Benicio y And marvelous life w/ the greatest of the United States - you! We'll have a blast. Get government off me and we will defeat the Grant magnall!!!
P.S. with movie

ONE IN THE SPIRIT

Rob - (future president)
I can't even believe I'm leaving now and moving on in that Big Bad World,
but one thing for sure I will never forget you and your humor and best of all your friendship
that you share with so many people. Keep living your life for Christ. I'll miss ya!

Mr. President,

It has been my sincere pleasure to be your teacher this year. I hope you remember me when you come into full power. All seriousness aside though, I think next year is going to be real special. Thanks for participating in devotions and for taking over class when you did.

You will already be a fine leader. Stay close to the Lord and make Him your advisor and God will use you in great ways.

I like

1. Glenn Hazlett, Sean Bush, and Andre Hotchko — 7th grade monkey business.
2. When Tina Berg speaks, Tammy Niblock and Jeff Cohen listen.

Prov. 3:5,6 (I suppose you already know, since I use it so often for devotions.)

"Trust in the Lord with all your heart, don't rely on what you think you know. Remember Him in everything you do, and He will show you the right way. God Bless You Lots!"

Mr. Carlson

THE QUALITY OF BEING ONE

Unity: singleness, oneness of mind, the state of being one, the quality of being one in the spirit. Unity may be found in a variety of places, the family or the football team, a country or a school. Schools especially should have unity, but the most important unity is the unity of Christians. So, the Christian school should be the most unified of all schools.

FELLOWSHIP OF THE SPIRIT

2

1. Greg Fields in a clueless state of mind. 2. Alice Pilkey and Kris Ordaz — best friends forever. 3. David Nakatsu and Teddy Yu orient themselves on the lawn.

Mr. President, Carol,
Rob.

Hope you have a terrific summer and
a great senior year.
I really enjoyed
getting to know you
a little. Good luck
as Pres. next year.
You'll do a great job.
Love, in Christ,
Jim Fowler

School unity is expressed through school spirit in sport support, faculty-student relations, and standing together for one cause, such as the Christmas Project and the fund-raising for Mr. Connors-Nelson. Paul writes of Christian unity in Philippians 2:1,2 "If therefore there is any consolation of love, if any fellowship of the Spirit, if any affection and compassion, make my joy complete by being of the same mind, maintaining the same love, united in spirit, intent on one purpose."

NEVER LET IT GO

One in the Spirit is not just a simple phrase, but rather a significant foundation in the Christian life. Truthfully, it is the theme of Christianity, a theme which we as Christians are inspired to meet. Unity is the result of a genuine interest in our fellow Christians. It is an overflowing, unconditional love which can not be bound or destroyed. Unity is lending a listening ear to someone in need — yes, compassion. It is a bright, friendly smile to a passing figure who may look down, or not at his best. Unity is the art of peacemaking or the quieting of harsh words which may damage one's sense of value. It is building each other up in areas that need encouragement. Let us all strive to meet this goal. Let it be perpetual. Never let it go.

IN THE BOND OF PEACE

"One in the bond of peace, the service glad and free of truth and righteousness, of love and equality."

—Leighton G. Hayne 1863

"The power of Christ's strong spirit the church shall unify,
When all names lost in one name, the kingdom
drawth nigh.

—Lucius H. Thayer 1908

"Not alone we conquer, not alone we fall;
Bound by God's far purpose in one living whole,
Move we on together to the shining goal!
In each loss or triumph lose or triumph all."

—Frederick L. Hosmer 1908

"O God, unite us heart to heart, in sympathy divine,
That we be never drawn apart, to love not thee nor thine.
But by the cross of Jesus taught, and all his gracious word."

The senior year is perhaps the time of the greatest inner changes in the lives of individuals. Along with these changes came what appeared to be a loss of interest in the usual activities, but studies and part-time work took precedence, and grades suddenly meant something in view of graduation.

There was so much more to be appreciated. Honored by the Junior class at the Junior-Senior Banquet early in May, the Seniors took time to dress up and enjoy themselves, cement friendships and review the past years at L.A. Baptist. As the year progressed, senior activities continued with class chapel, Senior Breakfasts, and the class Barbeque, burned hamburgers, and raw meat on the red hot coals. Also, Seniors grew closer through class Bible Studies. Choosing a class name and ordering caps and gowns early in the year created an anticipation of graduation. With hopes of the final day of school in the hearts and minds of Seniors, there were the mixed feelings of being glad to leave this school, but sometimes frightened of college and taking the first big step into the real world.

Club: A group of people organized for a common purpose. Organization: a number of persons united for the same purpose or work. Guild: association of the like-minded.

The common characteristics of clubs are regular meetings, faculty sponsors, club members, officers and basically the same interests. The L.A. Baptist organizations are Math Club, a new addition; Art Club, created by Mr. Glover; Drama Club, an active organization sponsored by Mrs. Pilkey; Chess Club, the king of the club is Mr. Mangnall; and French Club, rivals of Mr. Mangnall's organization.

Clubs support school spirit and add interest to daily routine. They allow different students to make new friends and share common interests together. Each club has special activities which build knowledge and enjoyment of their common purpose.

One activity of Spirit Day was unique from any other year here at L.A. Baptist. A tally has been kept of each class during different competitions during Spirit Day, Homecoming and Pep rallies. The class with the most points at the end of the year was the winner of Spirit competition.

SPIRITED

WE GOT THE SPIRIT

It was a gloomy Friday, September 18. The sun crept slowly behind the clouds and finally a golden beam of light appeared on the campus. The senior high students crowded into the gym. A silent hush fell over the crowd. Anticipation hung thick in the air as the excitement began to build. An explosion of cheers shook the gym and the tension mounted between the rival classes.

Then it was off. Students participated in many mentally and physically draining activities. One game consisted of cutting toilet paper lengthwise. Another was the ever popular leap frog, the winner being the first team stretched across the gym floor. The day continued with many events, ending in an obstacle course on the football field which involved a sprint, carrying an egg with a spoon, and a pyramid of students.

The day concluded with the Juniors and Seniors tied for first, and the Sophomores trailing behind in second place.

1. Tim Null and Mike McGee take the ultimate leap. 2. Scott Von Lanken swabs the deck. 3. Stacey Monroe and Sherri Worth violating the 18-inch law.

LET'S GET A LITTLE BIT ROWDY

Amid over 200 squirming bodies, Miss Black raised the microphone to her mouth and said, "When you are quiet we will begin." The noise roared on. "I'm losing my patience!" After a few more warnings, the attention was given and another Junior High Spirit Day started.

Jr. High Spirit Day is a time when the seventh and eighth grades battle it out to see who is the most spirited. They started out with the traditional volleyball and softball games. In those games, the eighth grade proved their strength. Then they went to the southeast end of the quad where Miss Black had all of the other games planned.

They had a tomato race where they placed a tomato in between a girl and a guy's forehead. There were cheers from both grades hoping that their team would win and that the tomato would squish. They had a wheelbarrow race and an egg race. The seventh grade did their best but as usual the eighth grade won. The eighth grade was very proud to have won and were leaping joyfully over their victory. The seventh grade was very disappointed, but they showed their scrub power in the spirit competition.

FOWL PLAY

The Junior High Annual Turkey Dress-Up Day took place on the football field. In the first half of the game, the seventh grade girls competed against the seventh grade boys. The boys were allowed to hop on one foot while the girls were allowed to run. The first half ended with the girls leading.

Then it happened. Turkeys popped up everywhere during halftime. Feathers were flying and wings were flapping as they were being prepared. Colorful construction paper, brown hefty garbage bags, leotards, and brown tights were used to dress the turkeys as well as other imaginative dressings. This half time activity resulted with Mark MacArthur being named Turkey of the Year.

The second half of the flamingo football game was a competition between the eighth grade boys and girls. Once again, the victory went to the eighth grade girls.

A CONTINUED TRADITION

Homecoming activities entailed class competition. The first day of competition was powderpuff football. The Freshmen and Sophomore ladies fought a hard battle and when it was over, the Sophomore girls had won by a touchdown. The rivalry between the Juniors and Seniors was intense. The Juniors were victorious but the Seniors didn't give up.

In the next day of competition, crazy hat day, the Seniors proved they could be creative by making newspaper hats. In the next competition, the object was to knock your opponent down while keeping your fingers on your toes. It proved to be both difficult and humorous. When it was over, the Seniors were victorious.

The final event was the tug-of-war. The Freshmen who had a victory snatched from them earlier in the week, won the tug-of-war between themselves and the Sophomores with an amazing show of strength. Then came the big match between the Juniors and the Seniors. Everyone went down on the field to cheer their classmates on. The Seniors knew that they must win this battle of brute strength. The Juniors proved that they could give the Seniors a good fight, but in the end, with the weight and strength of Gary Fletcher and others, the Seniors were victorious. The week helped each class unite and grow in spirit. Everyone was victorious during this week.

L.A.'S THE THEME, BAPTIST'S THE SCENE

The smell of hamburgers floated through the air as the basketball team plopped ground meat on a BBQ grill. "The Senior class is selling popcorn for 50¢" . . . was gradually reduced to "Popcorn only 8¢ a bag!" Shouts of "We're number one" and "Juniors are AWESOME!" were heard throughout the nights. Many times you could look up from poofing and see students from other classes standing around examining your float. As you walked around you would hear "Nice float, too bad it won't win."

Float building, poofing, yelling, and hard work made the Thursday and Friday nights of Homecoming week a success. The theme, "L.A.'s the Place!" made it even better. Every float was really good which made the judging even harder.

Everyone waited anxiously on Homecoming Day to hear the winner. The Sophomores and their "Hollywood" float rolled into first place with the Junior castle close behind. Third place went to the Freshmen's float. The Seniors "California Med-Fly" float was another example of an excellent float. Our 8th graders pulled their "Dodger" float around the field with an air of pride.

KNIGHTS AND LADIES

It was a cool, cloudy day on November 14, 1981 and the football field was beautified by the five homecoming princesses and last years queen. The five princesses were Cynthia Cano escorted by David Brown, Constance Minkoff escorted by Michael McGee, Iris Rodriguez escorted by Paul Sherrill, Marcel Carlson escorted by Joe Koh, and Melody Sherrill escorted by Garrett Arnold. Last year's queen, Laurie Buck, was escorted by this years student body President, Rocky Washington.

The beauty of the six girls in their long, flowing gowns added to the Varsity halftime activities. The long awaited announcement of the 1981-1982 Homecoming Queen was finally to be made. The crowd waited anxiously for Mr. Smidderks to finish his speech and finally announce the Queen. Mr. Smidderks at last said, "... and this years Homecoming Queen is ... Miss Cynthia Cano." Cindy and her escort, Dave, boarded the winning float and rode around the football field as is the custom.

The excitement of the day ended in the Knights 34-0 victory over Western Christian.

SHARING OUR JOY

This project is an annual event put on by the Spiritual Life Council. In the project, students brought over 800 gifts for distribution to the underprivileged kids of East Los Angeles. About 100 students traveled to Ramona Gardens to make this day special for those who don't have many special days.

The children could hardly wait for the events to begin. Each student took one to as many as six children for the afternoon. While not much English was spoken the students still managed to communicate with their young friends.

The leaders of the project, from World Opportunities, headed the entertainment for the day. While the kids waited anxiously for the passing out of the presents, they were led in singing carols and watched a film on the birth of Christ. Then a speaker spoke on the true meaning of Christmas. Finally, since no Christmas would be complete without Santa, Rocky Washington, disguised as the jovial St. Nick, visited the kids.

Finally, the moment arrived and the children quickly lined up to receive their presents. The smiles on their faces as they left with their presents and other goodies made the project worth everything that was put into it.

FACING A NEED

The holiday season brings to one's mind special times of joy and blessing with family and friends, colorful lights, and holiday feasts. Contrast this to the coldness of a hospital ward with its pastel colors and long hours of solitude. Persons confined due to illness are separated from the festivities of a season of joy.

The junior high students visited the Sepulveda Veterans Administration hospital to deliver presents to the patients there. The time spent with those in need was perhaps the greater gift, particularly for those patients who seldom had visitors.

SMALL TALK

Under the experienced guidance of Miss Black, some of the Jr. Highers learn the validity of articulation and pronunciation in a formal speaking atmosphere. They work very hard memorizing speeches so that they can compete against other schools in the spring. Competing in this event is a valuable experience which will no doubt prove useful to them as they move on into actual public speaking forums. Their speaking tools will help them, not only in competition, but also when they must give oral reports, or when they must give an announcement in front of a class. Their experience helps them meet new people.

Participating in the speech contest were: Wendy Wiegman and Elaine Pollock in the Oratory category; Mary DeVries and Kim Swihart in Bible Reading; and David Flaig and Christi Scherr in Dramatic Declamation.

FIRING UP

Eleven girls sit alone in a gym. Suddenly, the doors burst open. Hundreds of kids rush inside to find the best seat. The talking stops, all eyes are glued to the gym floor where the eleven girls stand and say, "Ready, okay!"

What is it? A Pep Rally. The energy and spirit generated by the Pep Rallies this year was tremendous. The enthusiasm by the student body was generated by the excitement of the sports teams and the precision of the Drill Team. Class competition really heated up during the Pep Rallies. The greatest competition was between the Juniors and the Seniors with the Juniors coming out on top the majority of the time.

Then it was over, everyone still full of school spirit, then went home to prepare for the Knights big game. It's over, but the memory lives on forever.

WHO NEEDS A QUORUM?

First, motivationally, what drives an individual to attempt to become an ASB officer? Second, what motivates one to continue to be one? Insanity, one might say, or the hidden but none the less present motivation to serve others and be a leader.

These officers, though often thought of as only seeking an additional excuse to get out of class, do plan various important student related events and activities. Among such events were Spirit Day, the Christmas Project, Homecoming, homecoming week activities, flick nights, and homeroom volleyball tournaments. Officers also aided in promoting the Spring-a-thon and participated in the orientation day for the seventh graders and new students.

Rocky Washington was forced to use his extensive capabilities to regulate this highly individualistic council. Randy Reed failed to imitate his national vice-presidential counterpart and remain discreetly in the background but instead could often be heard hinting at a coup. Rob Wilcox proved that it doesn't take artistic talent to carry out the job of Commissioner of Public Relations. His slanted posters could be seen everywhere. Dave DeVries was rumored to have taken Hayakawa type rest interludes during meetings. Rusty Gordon publicized sports announcements in spite of his involvement in various sports. Christine Suh provided noteworthy correspondence proving she could type at the rate of seventy-one words per minute as previously claimed. Matt Niblock provided many (?) enlightened financial reports. Paul Sherrill provided valuable assistance in planning spiritually related student activities. Cindy DuBois fought to insure the production of a yearbook that seemed destined to noncompletion. Mrs. Vanderpool managed to survive the many trials and tribulations of advising such a unique group of student representatives.

LITTLE DARLINGS

Hey! Watch out! That was my impression as I entered the LA Baptist gymnasium on a cool crisp morning in late October. It was total chaos! Batteries were launched through the air and the blaring of horns helped to add to the confusion. Toilet paper and balloons fluttered above their heads as Miss Black stood on stage in a Dodger hat trying to maintain law and order. The crowd consisted of two types, the radicals who paraded madly about the gym, and the disillusioned who sat passively on the bleachers in a state of confusion. What could this occasion be? You guessed it — the annual Junior High Convention.

The convention began with prayer and then it was on its way. The four candidates were Keith Crouch, Susie Duane, Yvonne Wells, and Wendy Wiegman. The candidates were unanimous in agreement that the Junior High should be united with a mutual love for each other. The planning of Junior High activities and having the Junior High included in the school newspaper are other goals in which the candidates are going to strive to meet. As Wendy Weigman stated, "We the Junior High are the school's future."

At the closing of the day when the ballots were counted, Keith Crouch was announced to be the winner.

The Junior High Student Council was chosen by their fellow classmates. They were responsible for planning and overseeing various Jr. High activities, for example: The Turkey Dressing Contest, Flamingo Football, Christmas Luncheon, Variety Show, Dress-Up Day, Hush Day, Volleyball Tournaments, and field trips, etc. An annual Jr. High event that the Council worked hard on was the Christmas Project. At this event the Jr. High shared their Christmas spirit at a convalescent home where the patients enjoyed their visit as much as the students. The Council meets approximately every two weeks. The president of the Junior High Council was Keith Crouch. The 7th Grade Representatives were Jill Akahoshi, Stacey Crouch, Kris Fernimen, and Derek Smith. The 8th Grade Representatives were Keith Crouch, Susie Duane, Yvonne Wells, and Wendy Wiegman.

STUDENT ELECT

Biannually, the members of each class join together to select those few students that are fortunate enough to be sent on to the Student Assembly. Besides the prestige involved in representing their class, the students enjoy the opportunity to escape from the routine of school.

Led by ASB Vice President Randy Reed, the Student Assembly discussed such important issues as the need for doors on the stalls in the boys restrooms, our flagless flagpole, Rob Wilcox's dream of a marquee in front of the school, and of course, the perpetual favorite, the working condition of the vending machines.

MODEST MINORITY

Each year at L.A. Baptist, various organizations serve the school by participating in school administrative duties, for example: Student Assembly, Spiritual Like Council, Girls Service Club, and the Dress Committee. The purpose of the Dress Committee is to enforce the official L.A.B. dress code which regulates the apparel of attending high school students. Dress code clothing should meet the general following standards: neatness, modesty, cleanliness, appropriateness, and health and safety standards. The Dress Committee is made up of one half faculty members and one half high school students. The Dress Committee will receive and handle dress referrals where a judgment decision is necessary. The student has the right to discuss and question the referral with the Dress Committee. The referral could result in a ruling by the committee of "violation", "warning", or "no action."

MORE OF THEE . . . LESS OF ME

The Spiritual Life Council is made up of more than 100 devoted young people. The council is divided into three sub-committees with the whole council under Paul Sherrill and sponsor Miss Black.

Campus Courtesy is under the direction of Wendy Smith and is responsible for the teacher's "secret servants." Devotional Life, led by Steve Jones and Dean Sharp, takes care of class Bible Studies and the Big Brother/Big Sister Program. The Spiritual outreach committee, under John Kim and Nancy McKelson, see to it that the Christmas project is taken care of.

A good example of the council "reaching out" was the way they helped three different families after their homes were burned in one of the many fires.

All in all, the Spiritual Life Committee has truly been a blessing to all who come in contact with it.

GETTIN' IT TOGETHER

The Big Brother, Big Sister Program is designed to give high school students an opportunity at disciplining younger students. This program has been very beneficial to the unselfish efforts of those involved. High School students were invited to volunteer to give some of their free time to get to know Jr. highs. Each student involved filled out and indepth application form, which was used to unite the students with someone of similar interest. Big Brothers and Big Sisters were encouraged to meet with their new friends individually. They visited various places together and shared experiences and Christian fellowship throughout the years.

SERVICE WITH LOVE

"And the greatest of these is love." The Lord tells his children to love their neighbors as they would love themselves. This is exactly what the Girls Service Club is striving to do. "The Lord's Ladies," as they are called, is a club that puts into service what the Lord says. In denying themselves, they see God as first, others second, and themselves last.

What exactly is the Girls Service Club and what does it do? The Girls Service Club is exactly what the name says: service, but with love. The club makes lunchboxes for the teachers, visits retirement homes and hospitals, supports an orphan, gives to the needy families in the surrounding community. The sponsors are Miss Britton and Mrs. Reeves, with Christine Suh as president. "The Lord's Ladies" are an active and vital part of the school's framework, giving service and love in Jesus' name.

THE FRENCH CONNECTION

As the long awaited passing bell rings relief from senior high Bible classes, students busily crowd into locker halls and lunch lines. Most kids head for the big green quad or the senior patio, but a few with boxes of hot lunch journey to room 225 for the regular French Club meeting.

The club, with it's new sponsor, Mr. Herold, was full of special activities. In mid-November, ten students went on a field trip to the J. Paul Getty museum in Malibu. Another club activity was the delicious pastry pig out held by two French bakers at the home of Adrienne English. The club also engaged in a trip to a French movie, "Les Enfants du Paradis" (The Children of Paradise). When Mr. Herold was asked to state the purpose of the French Club, he replied, "To supplement their linguistic education with a more cultural element."

"A man who is ignorant of a foreign language is ignorant of his own." — Goethe

A BRAVE NEW WORLD

Throughout the school year, and probably since the beginning of the cold war, there have been three kinds of people at L.A. Baptist High; the Chess Club member, the Math Club member, and the French Club member. They have borne countless different names, and their relative numbers, as well as their attitudes toward one another, have varied over the years; but the basic structure of society has never altered. Even after enormous upheavals and seemingly irrevocable changes, the same pattern has always reasserted itself, just as a gyroscope will always return to equilibrium, however far it is pushed one way or the other.

The aims of these three groups are entirely irreconcilable. The aim of the Chess Club is to prove that they are supreme. The aim of the Math Club is to prove that  $2+2=4$ . When a French Club member was asked the aim of their club she intellectually replied, "Who knows?"

In accordance with its tradition of supremacy the Chess Club has accomplished three most noble goals. The first of these being the promotion of higher intellect and learning. The second is the creation of a Mangnallian utopia, unparalleled by past regimes led by a highly esteemed public official. Last, but most important, is the creation of an atmosphere of liberty and freedom on campus unimpeded by Carlsonian philosophies or dictatorial French communists. The masses have been freed from the influence of such heretics. The Chess Club efforts have culminated in the creation of a brave new world.

Despite the vain attempts of those who threaten to revoke the Chess Club charter, they shall conquer the world in chess and Diplomacy, make new strides in Risk and backgammon. They shall prevail.

A NEW ADDITION

A new Club came into existence this year at L.A.B. called the Math Club. This club meets very other Wednesday in room 106 at lunch and is always followed by the strange smell of tunafish and oranges.

Mu Alpha Theta, or MA $\Theta$ , is an exciting club consisting of programming on a brand new Apple II computer, paper airplane competitions, Rubik's cube competition, information on math related careers, and much, much more!

The Purpose of MA $\Theta$  is to promote enjoyment of mathematics among high school students and to develop sound scholarship in mathematics. The main requirement for joining the math club is simply the desire to have fun.

Mr. Carlson is the main teacher in charge of the Math Club along with four elected officers. According to some of the members of the club, the class is less organized than a zoo and is one of the best clubs in our school today.

ART MASTERS

On any normal school day at lunch, one can walk into room 220 and see a large, empty classroom. One can shout, his voice resounding and echoing against the walls. But on certain Fridays of the year, this barren, desolate, classroom transforms into the fantastic, amazing Art Club!

Art Club, you may say, what's so great about this club? Sure, it may be new on campus, but it has tremendous potential for limitless creations. The creativity of it's members transcend the boundaries of imagination as they endeavor to win the school to art.

Under the direction of their fearless leader, Mr. Doug Glover, this club contributes many masterpieces and works of art to the school's Spring Fine Art Festival and contests all over the state. The club also has interesting meetings and entertaining guest speakers, such as one from Hanna-Barbera. This is why the Art Club is one of the hottest new clubs around!

AFTERNOON ACTORS

Improvisations, acting, pantomimes and lunchtime fun . . . all these were characteristic of the Drama Club. Headed by Mrs. Pilkey and officers Nan Spradley and Sheri Burroughs, students had the chance to display their acting ability for the fun of others. Students in Drama Club also had a chance to audition for the Spring Fine Arts Play, "I Remember Mama." Although at times in rehearsal the play looked like a farce, it turned out well in the end, as usual.

But most of all Drama Club can be defined in one word: Exciting!

BRAIN POWER

You're failing algebra; you've read the book. Your mind is still boggled. What do you do? Well, tutoring has arrived. Yes, those smart, intelligent, "A" students are here to tutor the "less fortunate."

C.S.F. stands for the California Scholastic Federation. To be a part of this organization, one must have a grade point average of 3.4 or better, and be able to attain this g.p.a. for each semester. The sponsor of C.S.F. is Mrs. Vanderpool who is in charge of the trip to Disneyland that is planned each year for C.S.F. members. Questioned on the importance of C.S.F., one of its members commented, "It meets once a semester for 10 minutes. That's a club?"

MR. RODGERS' NEIGHBORHOOD

They are responsible for lighting and sound set up throughout the campus. Float building would have been dim without them. They prepare the scene for chapels, football games, basketball games, pep rallies, plays, musicals, and PTF meetings. They assist the technical crew during plays and musicals and prepare the patio for hot lunch on Fridays.

Yes, this the extraordinary stage crew! This group includes: Debbie Davis, Lisa Cooper, Lynette Thorpe, David Daubert, Kurt Myles, Jim White, Hugh DiPretore, Mike Weaver, Steve Kearney, Jerry Sanchez, and Fred Bryant.

All time is not spent hard at work. Playing practical jokes is also a common activity for the stage crew. Such pranks include such things as locking one in the sound room or in other unusual places.

Many thanks to our stage crew. Without them our school just might be facing disaster.

ALL IN ONE ACCORD

On any other day, given the same group of people, they would ordinarily be climbing the walls, but when they get an instrument in their hands they become diligent workers striving for the best.

They upheld their promise from last year. They pulled together and improved tremendously, and we are now proud to say "We have a band." The band played at all of our home games, and helped raise the spirit of the audience to root our teams on to victory. Walking into the gym, one might hear the blaring of horns, or the pounding of drums warming up to jolt the audience with the theme of "Close Encounters."

Under the direction of Mr. Walt Crider the band has put their musical talents to excellent use, by helping to raise our school spirit.

READY MAESTRO

As the tardy bell rings, sixty students rush into room 221. Chairs and desks are swamped with notebooks and jackets. The room is filled with groups of chattering people. But the confusion comes to a halt when the class is called to order. Everyone, after quickly mounting the risers, sings their little hearts out.

The choir for this year has two directors, Mr. Bill Days and Principal Gary Smidderks. The choir is also accompanied by pianist Kim Cooper.

The Choir has worked hard, learned strict discipline and how to perform as a unit. They have performed at numerous chapels and P.T.F. events, the Christmas program, and the Spring musical.

RHYME AND RHYTHM

As the black, shiny piano begins to play, the PR group stands quietly taking deep flowing breaths. As the swaying arm of the conductor, Mr. Gary Smidderks, begins to move, it unlocks the breath in their bodies letting the sweet soothing music fill the air.

When the sopranos, Cindy Cano, Sharon Biggar, Shirley Brown and Lanette Raymond, sing with their petite voices, the bass section Rick Dempsey, Dave Brown, Paul Bennett and Greg Ritter, aid in promoting harmony. The altos, Marci Carlson, Kathy Didway, and Christine Suh, and the mellow tenors, Dean Russu, Jim White and Perry Way, blend in to make the song sound like a fine tuned violin.

In the shadows of the spotlight stand Mrs. Mary Makela and Mr. Bill Rodgers who help with the organization of this fine group "Echoes of His Love."

The purpose of the PR group is to present the school and the rest of the community with enjoyable pleasure by witnessing through their songs.

ENTER STAGE LEFT

Where else can one find a class that being different helps get an 'A', but in Theater Arts. The requirements for being in Theater Arts are a vivid imagination, creativity, and a love for the stage. It is an interesting class with all sorts of strange assignments and strange people. When speaking with one of the theater students, it becomes evident that they enjoy the freedom given to their imagination. They said that it was a class that you "can daydream and get points for it!" Mrs. Pilkey, however, does not see it quite that way. Her goal as Theater Arts teacher was to help her students "build their talents, imagination and creativity." She hopes that through this class her students will be more prepared to experience life in a more enjoyable manner. She believes that it is important to teach a student to express himself. And do they express themselves! Sometimes a student becomes an old man, sometimes he is a six year old child. But whatever the student becomes, their experience is enjoyed by all.

PRESSING ON

There are interviews, paste-up, printing, and the necessary frequent breaks for rest and relaxation. Few students realize how much work it takes to produce a four page newspaper each month. Mr. Weitzel and other staff members, editors, Marcy Brown and Shirley Brown, worked "diligently" to produce the newspaper on time, an event which has not always occurred in the past years. Some of the drawbacks to the production of the paper are limitations as to length of articles due to the paper's size, difficulty in obtaining advertisement, and the common plague of all high school journalistic productions, student laziness.

WELCOME TO BEDLAM

The lights in room 220 flash off and on. This is the way the mighty Mr. Glover attracts the attention of his attentive production design students. These diligent workers are sprawled in chairs at their tables, with the exception of Kim Davis, who is content in the showcase box by the darkroom. The smells of rubber cement, developer, and film dryer fill the air. A figure streaks by, pulling her hair and shredding double page spreads. It is Cindy DuBois, yearbook editor. Assistant editor, David Souleles, is closely following her, trying to reason with the nerve frazzled girl.

Towards the end of each quarter, the students turn into animals. Suddenly realizing the urgency of needed points to pass, the animalistic children will stoop to any task to acquire these valuable points. Busy workers are eagerly designing layouts, pasting up pictures, and printing photos. Other students are frantically writing copy for the Scroll. The "points race" is constantly going on, with students actually asking to help clean up for the reward of a couple measly points. Mr. Glover delights in watching the escapades of these students as they work their fingers to the very bone in an attempt to get the Scroll out on time.

As the final deadline approaches, the after school hours and late nights increase. At times, Mr. Glover is heard to say, "We are trying to put out a 192 page book with a 148 page staff." The walls boast of several Hugo Eduardo Awards and countless Gumby silhouettes where xacto phantoms have left their mark. The yearbook disease, known as the burnout syndrome, slowly creeps in creating an atmosphere of lethargy. With the job number, 31438, indelibly pressed into the minds of the staff members, they are left with the question, "Is there life after yearbook?"

CLOSE ENCOUNTERS

When students hear or see the three letters P.T.F. they wonder what it is. Well P.T.F. stands for Parent Teacher Fellowship. Wow, really neat, right? Well yes, it really is. P.T.F. provides parental support for the student body. It also allows parents to fellowship with the teachers and administrators.

Led by President Stan Belland, the P.T.F. was involved in such programs as Back-To-School Nights, College Nights, and hot lunches.

Many of these activities are taken for granted by the students. But without P.T.F. where would we be? Maybe it's time we say something to P.T.F. that we should have said long ago-Thanks.

FOOD FOR THOUGHT

Anyone walking by the student store early this year would have heard the typical sounds of construction. The hammers and saws were converting this supply center for students to serve as a snack bar. The faithful Booster trailer, which also served this purpose, bit the dust this year.

The snack bar is one of the main sources of revenue for the Booster club. This devoted group of parents headed by Ken Phillips, purchases extra athletic equipment and also underwrites the cost of rooters buses. Their hard work helps promote the feeling of all being one in the spirit.

BEST OF TIMES

The few, the proud, the Varsity Football Team. It was an even mixture of Seniors and Juniors that filled the roster of the Varsity Football Team. They were dedicated, they worked hard, they endured pain and they became a team that believed in each other.

Greg Goens was the team leader on offense with his running and passing from quarterback and on defense with his timely interceptions. Greg returned a punt against Western Christian 70 yards for a touchdown, breaking seven tackles and driving fans crazy.

Rod Shackelford and Matt MacArthur were the leading ball carriers with great relief from Greg Ritter and Hector Raya.

How about Brian "Awesome" Ammerman? Brian was named the Outstanding Valley Defense Player of the Week for his effort against the Fillmore Team. A powerful Fillmore Team was shut down to minus 23 yards rushing by Brian and the defense which included Mark Shearin, Bubba Blevons, Paul Sper, Gary Fletcher, Rick Watson, Steve Jones, and Rob Neithart. The entire team had an outstanding year and made the C.I.F. playoffs for the first time in ten years. The Knights never left the field a loser, they just ran out of time.

OFFENSIVE DEFENSE

If one were to be asked for the outstanding feature of the Junior Varsity team, it would have been outstanding defense. Often during the season, the defense was responsible for either scoring or placing the ball in position so the offense could easily score. Among some of the outstanding defensive players were William Gonzales and Greg Roberts.

The offense, though, was not without merit. Outstanding offensive players such as Dean Sharp, Tim Westmore, and Matt Boyer aided the offensive effort of the Knights. But even with fine performances by these players and other offensive players, the team failed to generate a consistent offense.

Among the players seen by the coaches as being promising for the future were Jay Benthagen, Derek Kruzner, and Greg Roberts.

OF MICE AND MEN

It's a warm sunny day, the quad is cleared except for two groups of boys who are stretching and warming up. The seventh and eighth graders strap on their flags and prepare themselves for the game. A flock of blue and gold shirts take the field along with their opponents. The scene is set for another exciting Junior High football game.

The Junior High football team completed their 1981 season with a well-earned 5-4 record. Coached by Dale Dickson and John Durso, the team was known for it's explosive offense. Led by their quarterback, Sean Casey, who threw for over twenty-three touchdowns, the Knights were always an offensive threat.

Paul Jones led the scoring with eighteen touchdowns. He was helped by the strong line which included Paul Hodgson. Shane McCrossen helped the offense, at running back, with his skilled running ability.

The Knights also have a strong defense. Mike Akahoshi led in flags taken and was a fine defensive back. All of the players were dedicated, skilled and should help our Junior Varsity Team next year.

A DRIVING SUCCESS

The golf team is expected to putt away all opposition. Under the intrepid leadership of Coach Neville — a man on the ball — the team is expected to conquer several Southland courses. Kent and Jane Naruse — the Orient Express — should enable the team to remove some of the hazards from the game of golf. An increased interest in the game is evident in the large turn out of golfers. Many of those who are new to the team are also new to the game so Coach Neville will have ample opportunity to spread his knowledge of the sport.

It is hoped that some of these new golfers will wedge themselves into the top of the competition bracket. Although the school has no home course, long drives will carry them to other courses, and hopefully through the tournaments.

PRIMATE POWER

BUMP! SET! FACE! That's the sound you hear bouncing off the walls of the gym during a Varsity Volleyball match. NIKE, ADIDAS, TIGERS, screech, leap and fly across the court as the players put their poetry in motion. The smell of perspiration as well as burning rubber and leather fill the gym as the fans cheer on and feet go screeching and balls go smashing all over. Flashing colors of new uniforms decorated with gold and white flutter around the court. Pictures of hairy primates were secretly used for psyche-up jobs.

Way to go! Fire up! Let's go team! Go bananas! Yes sir, that's the Varsity Volleyball team. Cries of agony as well as sheer delight ring out from the mouths of hyper-active Coaches Newcomb and Noblitt as they flash pictures of hairy primates.

Led by returning Varsity players Debbie Cox, Naomi Dickson and Gina Holmstrom, with last years J.V. Darlene Bethe, Laura Betts, Marge Phillips, Jean Stevens, Sandy Sundberg and Dawn Woodard, and first year players Stephanie Johnson and Stefani Leto the team experienced a totally awesome and breath-taking season. With only two players leaving the team they should do sunerb next year.

MANY FACES OF EVE

Junior Varsity Volleyball, like all J.V. sports, is subject to the inconsistencies found when athletes are developing the fundamental skills of a sport. Play consists of moments of brilliance and moments of frustration and embarrassment. Still, through hard work and dedication this team develops the talent necessary to be competitive in the Olympic League.

Lead by such outstanding players as Michelle Marasca, Harlynn Ramsey, Kathy Stevens and Michell Weaver, the team completed a 5-9 season. With emaculate hitting and setting power these players will be assets to the varsity team next year.

Every game viewed was filled with fun and excitement.

UP FROM RESPECTABILITY

In recent years, the cross country teams have been plagued by respectability. In spite of having the league M.V.P. on the squad, the school failed to win a league championship. Hard work and greater development of depth in the squad allowed Baptist to attain more than respectability and complete an undefeated season.

Runners, Bill Baugh, Lane Olson, Rocky Washington, and Bruce Turner headed the All-League list. Darrin Miller and Paul Sherrill finished eleventh and fifteenth in League and the team took six of the top fifteen slots. By doing this, the team advanced to the C.I.F. Finals.

In the C.I.F. finals, the school managed to place fifth in spite of the loss of Bill Baugh, the team's strongest runner, due to illness. With the graduation of only two team members, prospects for next year are good.

RUN FOR THE SON IN EIGHTY-ONE

Following a victorious season that ended in frustration when the team arrived late at last year's League Championship, the team completed an undefeated season and finished number six in C.I.F. finals for the Southern California section.

In a very lady-like manner, the girls logged at least three miles a day and could often be seen running up and down the Woodley Hill to build additional strength and endurance.

The team was led by Kathryn McMillion, the league M.V.P. Also running all-league for the team were Krys Spore, Karen Sorensen, and Brigitta Schlicht. Tania Von Der Au, Audrey Lycklama, Intha Wilson, Dee Dee Thomas and Marianne Ide, provided additional depth and strength for the Olympic League champions.

Additional honors for the team and team members included a third place finish in C.I.F. Prelims, a third place finish for Kathryn McMillion a 13th place finish for Krys Spore at the Bell-Jeff Invitational, and an eleventh place "team" finish at the Mt. Sac Invitational.

In spite of losing two of the current team, next year's returning team should be strong.

HIGH GOALS

Upon entering the gym on a cool winter evening, one is immediately overwhelmed by an all encompassing wave of heat. This mass of hot air is generated by the myriad of hot screaming bodies packed into the cinder block building. This enthusiastic crowd, waving their signs, bricks, and suitcases, is cheering their basketball team to victory. This crowd, blue (and gold) in the face from cheering, believes that their team is worth all of the sweat and ingenuity that they put into their cheers.

According to coach Neville, the ballplayers themselves perceive the cheering in a slightly different manner. He says that in spite of the crowd's deafening roar, the team can hear the coaches' every word. The players, as they glide through the air, can sense only a mammoth hiss which does not obscure the coaching directives. The players have their own form of communication, both spoken and unspoken. As the crowd cheers in hundreds of ways, the team plays towards one goal. They attain their goal only by following the coaches' commands and by playing as a team; as one in the spirit of the team.

The crowd is repeatedly repaid for their diligent cheering by the numerous overtime periods. An overtime game is the most exciting event that can happen in a gym, and there were many such events in the gym this year. As the players adroitly played their best, and the coaches calculatingly manipulated these skills, the season grew old, and the team drew nearer to the playoffs. All in all, it was a good year for the team as they finished third in the league.

COMPETITIVE FACTOR

The gym is filled with the sound of bouncing basketballs, the smell of sweat, and thirteen boys who are warming up for another practice. Suddenly the sound is broken by Coach Jennings' voice yelling, "Base line." The players immediately run to the base line and stand at attention, ready for another grueling practice.

The junior varsity team completed another successful season. Though they did not have the height previous teams have had, their quickness and constant effort earned them a third place finish in league.

The team was led by guards, John Wise and David Knowlton, whose constant hustle was a big plus in the starting lineup. The forwards, Lance Arnold and Hugh DiPretore, demonstrated strength on the boards and both were pure shooters. Center Tim Null helped defensively as well as on offense.

The team also had a strong bench. Eric Lipp, Ron Donner, Craig VonLanken, and Stacey Monroe came in and always gave 100 per cent.

The talent of the J.V. team should make fine J.V. and Varsity teams next year.

GERGINS' CHAMPS

It's a cold winter day and the hard blacktop basketball courts are cleared, except for a devoted group of boys who go there daily. They listen to Coach Gergins yell and improve their skills at basketball, individually and as a team.

The freshman basketball team had one of their best seasons in years. Led by Rob Gergins and assisted by Mark Gordon, they finished 5 and 2 in league and really looked good.

Guards Dave Kaak and Glen Russu pumped excitement into the team with excellent ball handling and knowledge of the game. Forwards Darrell Williams and Matt Kreiger were always a shooting threat and strong on the boards. Eric Dickson, the center, jumped and led in rebounds. All of these players are good and should help the J.V.'s next year.

GETTING BETTER

In the previous year, the girls' varsity basketball team went without a victory as Baptist began to reestablish basketball as one of the girls' sports. This year, the team won twice as they continued to strive for respectability in the tough Olympic League.

Led by Naomi Dickson, who was selected as a member of the first team Olympic League, Baptist provided a team that was competitive. Among the team's strong performers were Debbie Bongard with her outside shots and Tania Von Der Au with her outstanding defensive moves.

The team became known as an aggressive, defensive team. Offensive performance would have been enhanced by greater fan support.

COMING UP

If the J.V. team's performance any indication of next year's Varsity season, then they should capture at least one title. Coach Alice Harris has obviously succeeded in instructing the team in the rudimentary aspects of the game. As the entire team worked hard running up and down the court, Beth Sullivan became the team's high scorer. Vicki Lane and Carolyn McCray also made outstanding contributions to the team's success. Through hard work, team work and coachwork, the ladies finished the season with a 10 and 11 record.

SHORT SHOOTERS

The junior high boys' basketball team had such a large turnout of willing players that they were split into a seventh and eighth grade team to insure a fair chance of play for all.

Among the outstanding players on the eighth grade team were Robert Dodson, Scott Ellison, Gary Kim, James Lee, and Mark Williamson. With the coaching of Mr. Dickson, the team has managed to post a superb undefeated record at the time of this article.

The seventh grade team, under the leadership of Mr. Durso, has also maintained an undefeated record. Among its outstanding performers were Steve Phillips and Ronn Seidenglanz.

Junior High sports is a good way to gain experience and knowledge for High School sports. Athletes gain confidence in themselves as well as experiencing team unity and sportmanship. The Jr. High girls basketball team evolved from nine players with basically no experience. As a result of good practices and coaching, the season was a success. The best result being a 50-12 victory over First Lutheran of San Fernando, with Susie Duane almost always leading with points and Sylvia Corralejo with rebounds.

Psych-up jobs are also known in Junior High sports. The team used cheers such as "Go Knights", and "Fire Up." Outstanding players on the team were Sylvia Corralejo, Susie Duane, Angela Kruzner, and Erin Marasca. These players will be missed next year but will be joyous members of High School Basketball.

With a record of 5 and 2 they had a knock-out season with their strong points being fast breaks and defense.

SHOOTING FOR VICTORY

"A winning, aggressive team whose talent and players are far superior to their second place finish in the Olympic League," is an accurate statement of what the Baptist team was this year. This is the team that was ranked fourth in CIF and is currently involved in the CIF soccer quarterfinals.

Led by Dave Brown, a second year member of the all CIF team and co-MVP of the Olympic League, the Knights have displayed a style of play characterized by quick on the ground ball movement, accompanied by player movement, that leads to a cross and a quick one touch shot near the post. The strong offensive line made up of Tim Matthews, Hector Raya, and Dave Brown have averaged more than three goals per game for over fifty goals on the year.

The Baptist defense was seen by its opponents as being an extremely strong smothering defense. Rusty Gordon at goalie, Dave Owen at center fullback, and Mark Von Der Au at sweeper were among several outstanding defensive players.

HEADING FOR VICTORY

Demonstrating the aggressive, quick style that has come to characterize Baptist soccer, the junior varsity completed a 6-8-4 season to end in a tie for third place in the Olympic League.

While demonstrating a particularly strong defense, the team also displayed offensive prowess. Leading scorers for the Knights were Joe Yurosek and John Pollock. Among other strong performers on the team were the team's captain Craig Reisgen, Steve Cabello, Tim Koontz, Jeff Cohen, Ted Lehman, and Jerry Schmitt.

These players and others on the team are sure to provide the necessary manpower to maintain the school's tradition of producing fine soccer teams.

MAKING TRACKS

The crunching of packed sand beneath spikes, the labored breathing, splits, and rippling muscles; these are the many faces of track. This sport is executed by dedicated and determined athletes out to get there first.

Led by Bill Baugh, the Olympic League cross country M.V.P., and with such strong long distance runners as Rocky Washington and Paul Sherrill, the team promises to continue its domination of the league in long distance events.

Among other strong performers should be Dave Brown, Rick Watson, and Rod Shackelford in the sprints, Greg Ritter in both the high jump and hurdles, Mike McGee in high jump, and Brian Ammerman and Garry Fletcher in the shot put.

Barring unforeseen injuries, the team seems destined to win its second consecutive league championship.

FRESH START

Under the leadership of Coach Gomez and Coach Mears, the Frosh-Soph track team looked promising. The 440-relay is one of their strongest races. The relay team consists of Jeff King, Glenn Russu, Stacey Monroe and Dave Knowlton. The team's strong performers were Dave Knowlton in the 440; Paul Burt in the middle distance; Glenn Russu and Jeff King in sprints and Lane Olsen in long distance.

With only one real weakness, the pole vault, the team should do well in the league. Coach Gomez hopes that the team will take many places in the finals. Next year's Varsity team will continue a tradition of being a league power because of the many strong runners they will gain.

FEMININE FACTOR

They whiz by in a whirl of motion; bootie socks, flying hair, and powerful strides. It is the feminine factor in track, the girls that get out there and give their best, through long, hard practices and nerve rattling meets.

With returning Olympic League MVP, Kathryn McMillion, back from last year's hip injury, the team was off to a good start. The fact that the league champion cross country team was continuing their running in track laid a strong base for the season. The senior girls contributed a big part to track and will be a great loss next year. Naomi Dickson, Melody Sherrill, and Karen Sorenson gave steady winning support throughout the competition. Juniors Krys Spore and Tania Von Der Au ran in excellent form and Coach Gomez has high hopes for them as leaders in next year's team.

BATMEN AND BOYS WONDER

Once again the Baptist team fielded a strong all-round team. With a combination of powerful hitting, skilled pitching, and outstanding fielding, the prospects for another Olympic League championship are bright.

Among the strong pitching staff are knuckleballer Joe Koh, and all-round pitchers, Lance Arnold and Jon Oatey. Several outstanding powerhitters among the team are Scott Miller, Rod Shackelford, and Matt MacArthur. Standing out among a team of capable fielders is an outstanding infield make up of Scott Miller at third, Matt MacArthur at shortstop, Rod Shackelford at second, and Rusty Gordon at first.

OUTSTANDING IN THEIR FIELD

The junior varsity team has already impressed it's coaches as being an enthusiastic team that is particularly good defensively. Among its strong performers are Matt Boyer and Derek Kruzner at the plate, Greg Roberts behind the plate, and Dave Harrelson in the field.

Indications are that in spite of a possible need for minor improvement in the area of pitching, the team will be extremely competitive.

IN THE SWING OF THINGS

When considering the makeup of the average varsity high school softball team, one would expect to find a team consisting of older veterans along with a few talented underclassmen. The softball team is uniquely unusual in that it is a young team having only one senior returning.

Coached by Miss Noblitt and Newcomb, the team promises to do well since it is characterized as having both a strong offense and defense.

Led by Gina Holstrom, a member of last year's All-CIF softball team, strong performances are expected from Emy Hernandez or Laura Hoyt at pitcher, and Marge Phillips, Nancy Nilson, Sandy Sundberg, and Karen Hack in the field.

BAT TO BASES

With a 34-5 win over Village Christian in the first game of the year, the team has served notice that new talent is not only being developed but already present on the junior varsity level.

Some of the players demonstrating overall outstanding performance were Julia Shepard, Sherry Alanis, Ruth Bowers, Trisha Delfino, and Bliss Liebowitz. Backing up these players with outstanding performance in the field were Sue Purtee and Rhonda Way. This strong hitting and fielding should serve to bolster this year's pitching.

TEAMWORK!

The beginning of a new season, particularly with the advent of a new coach, makes one wonder how teams manage to play at all. But the team did manage to come together and after a slow start they completed a successful season. The lack of confidence and aggressiveness, the fear of fast pitchers seen at the start of the season, was replaced by games of outstanding team and individual play.

The highlight of the season was the 26-0 victory over North Valley Lutheran. Strong players included Susie Duane, Erin Marasca, Sylvia Corralejo, Christy Davison, and Christa Taylor.

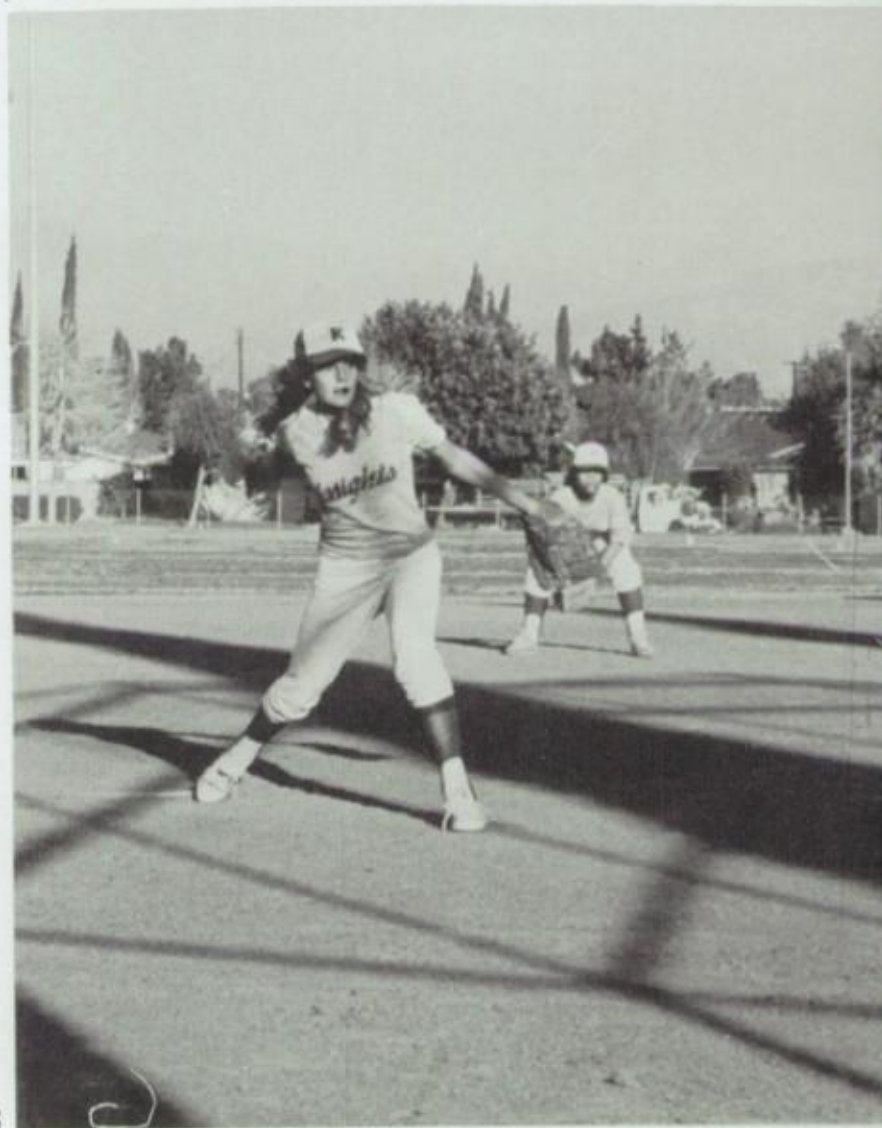

While preparing the team for the future participation in high school athletics through instruction on the fundamentals, coach Regalot also stressed good sportsmanship and team play.

SPORTS SUMMARY

In football, the Knights had their first winning season in more than five years. They, also, advanced to the CIF playoffs for the first time in ten years. The team's defense finished the season ranked number two in CIF. Greg Goens and Robb Neithart were selected to first team, all Olympic league honors. Earning second team, all league honors on offense were Brian Ammerman and Matt MacArthur. Greg Goens was selected for the first team, all league honors on defense. Selected to the second team, all league on defense were Brian Ammerman, Randy Bohn, Matt MacArthur, and Greg Ritter. League honorable mentions went to Rod Shackelford and Paul Sper.

In cross country, both the boys' team and girls' team won the Olympic league championship while completing undefeated seasons. Bill Baugh was selected the Olympic league MVP in boys' cross country. Kathy McMillion was awarded the league MVP for girls' cross country. Lane Olsen, Bruce Turner, and Rocky Washington were selected all league in girls' cross country. Both teams finished in fifth place in CIF, a ranking they held most of the season.

In girls' volleyball, Gina Holmstrom was selected to first team, all league. Naomi Dickson and Marge Phillips were selected as members of the all league second team.

In boys' basketball, Jon Haar was first team, all Olympic league. Greg Fields and Todd Brooks were selected to receive second team all league honors. The freshmen basketball team was Olympic league co-champions.

In girls' basketball, Naomi Dickson was selected to the first team, all league.

In soccer, at the time of this summary, the Knights have advanced to the Finals of CIF. Dave Brown was selected to be co-MVP of the Olympic league and for the second year in a row, made first team all CIF. The soccer team was ranked fifth in CIF before entering the CIF playoffs.

JUST FOR KICKS

ATTENTION . . . Captain Cindy Cano blew her whistle and the girls came to order. Practice had started and the girls were exercising. After the girls were warmed up they began working on new routines and polishing up old ones. No time was wasted.

Cindy Cano led the Drill Team with the help of Co-Captain Lynette Raymond, and leaders, Holly Johnson, Cheryl Sylwester and Cindy Miller. The Drill Team is made up of twenty-six girls, who have performed routines to "Superman," "Oh When the Saints," "Better Than Ever," "On Broadway" and many more. The routine "Star Wars" performed on Homecoming was dedicated to Cindy Cano for being on the Homecoming Court.

The highlight of this year's Drill Team was "Secret Sisters." Each girl had a sister who encouraged them, gave them gifts, notes and love. The only catch is that the girls did not know who their secret sister was. Secret sisters brought the girls together and caused them to grow in Christ and each other.

GO! FIGHT! I HOPE I LOOK ALRIGHT!

Cheers, echoing off the barren desert, freezing weather, but eleven girls were still supporting their school football team. The place, was Boron, and the cheerleaders were wearing mittens, jackets, and leg warmers. But, in spite of the weather, the Jay-Vee and Varsity cheerleaders joined together to lead the crowd and were more enthusiastic than ever.

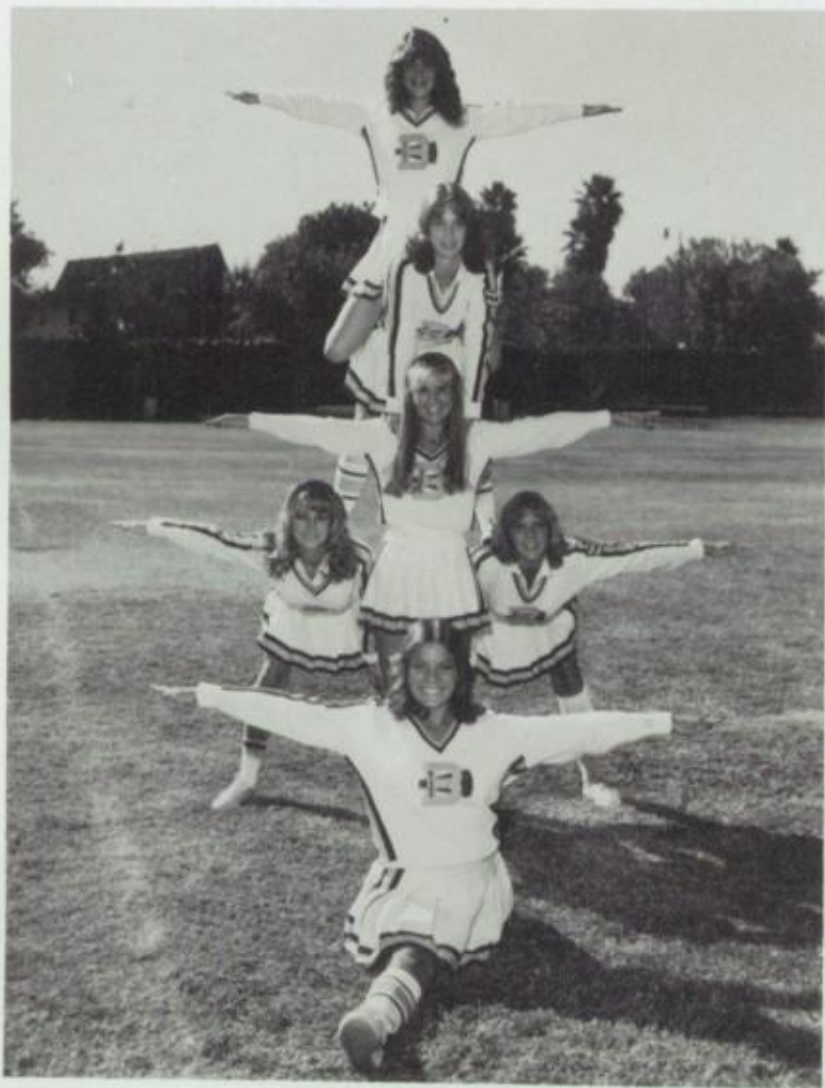

In direct contrast to the cool weather of Boron, was the feeling of spirit on campus. Fierce school spirit was shown at home basketball games and even at volleyball games. School pep rallies were particularly loud.

Cheerleaders and fans worked together to promote spirit. Highlights included the huge signs displayed at home basketball games which were ripped up by the fans when they announced our team, the fans painting their faces purple and fold, carried suitcases for "traveling" calls, used bricks for congratulating opponents for bad shots, and the visit by the Dailey News to report the school's awesome spirit.

Led by Mrs. Crider, the cheerleaders worked to enhance school spirit by many different means including pep rallies, skits, and signs.

FRIENDS

Personalities are like colors of the spectrum. The uniqueness of a personality is complemented when viewed with other personalities, just as a color is made living when contrasted with other colors. Our school is rich with diverse personalities: enthusiastic extroverts, shy introverts, serious "intellectuals", creative artists, class clowns, and well rounded achievers . . . The intermixing of these personalities produces our school's identity.

SEVENTH GRADE: If the Freshmen were nervous, the seventh graders were terrified as they began their new life in Junior High. As the year progressed, the "Scrubs" created memories in the beginning to be reminisced of in the end.

EIGHTH GRADE: With October came elections, and after campaigns, speeches, and run-offs were over, the Junior High had a capable set of officers. The Christmas Project and Spirit Day fill the eighth grade with activities.

FRESHMEN: At first they came to classes alone and cautiously. Later in the year they came in small groups, chattering excitedly. By the end of the first semester they were greeting everybody freely. Freshmen, who just a year ago stood above others as their Junior High leaders, have once again become the innocent and inexperienced followers struggling to overcome their apprehensions.

SOPHOMORES: Back from a long summer, the Sophomores returned to the now familiar campus with the taking on of more responsibility. Sophomores, no longer feeling it necessary to behave more mature than they actually are in order to compete with upperclassmen, were able to relax and participate in school passionately.

JUNIORS: Carrying on tradition, the Juniors planned a banquet in honor of the Seniors and sat tight on the details of the occasion until April. Spirits and expectations of Juniors soared as the Juniors gained unity and spirit as a class. Developing an even stronger possession of the school, Juniors prepared to become next year's experienced leaders.

OFFICERS WITH CLASS

One of the first events of the new school year is the election of class officers. These elected officials have several tasks that they must perform for the people who elected them. First and foremost, they must be leaders who will make wise decisions for their class. These decisions pertain to how Homecoming floats will look, where banquets will be, and what fund raisers would be most profitable. As class officers, it is also their responsibility to work with their sponsors and student council to make the year's activities enjoyable for everyone.

Another important quality of class officers is the willingness to listen to the people they serve. Suggestion and support from the class are a big factor in the success of these elected officials. Working together, for one ultimate goal, is what being a class officer is all about.

Wanted: Cheap labor. Applicant should be willing to work long hours, enjoy inhaling duplicating fluid fumes, be able to cope with purple-stained fingers and clothing due to handling ditto masters, able to remember P.T.F. meeting dates and times, love to write course guides with dozens of behavioral objectives, love substituting for sick peers, enjoy pursuing disobedient food-throwing students at lunch, crave 7:00 A.M. faculty meetings, willing to grade often incoherent papers, and working with "cooperative" students. Oh yes, and one more thing, should be able to teach.

One asks, "Could these be our teachers and administrators? It is often the case. Assaulted by details and the tensions of work, they continue on with occasional minor flareups of practical jokes. The administrators, staff, and teachers work together to promote the common aim of providing the students with an education while guiding them in their walk with Christ.

UNITY OF PRINCIPLE

"One in the spirit" is a rather optimistic annual theme and yet in many respects is a true reflection of the 1981-1982 school year at Baptist High. To have oneness of spirit is to have oneness of purpose and direction and for the most part that was true this past year. As a school and as individuals, we sought to fulfill the Lord's purpose for us by bringing glory to Him.

Although the ways in which we pursued and expressed this goal are varied, we have brought glory to God in many ways. Christian service projects have abounded both on campus and in the community. Expressions of Christian understanding and support have been evident as the school community bonded together to help one another in time of crisis. The Lord's name has been lifted up by the success and Christian sportsmanship of our athletic teams. We have exalted the Lord in music, drama and the arts. Individually, many students have glorified God by using the talents He gave them in academic achievement.

All these are not to say that we "have arrived" as Christians or as a school. Quite the contrary, we are still in the process of refinement by the Lord. But it is good to feel the Lord's leading and participation with us in the building of His kingdom. That kingdom to be fully, truly and completely "One in the Spirit" when He comes again.

Phil. 3:13 and 14

1. Our Principal, Mr. Gary Smidderks. 2. Mr. Smidderks — profile of courage.

ON BEING ONE IN THE SPIRIT

The spirit of a person is that undefineable presence and attitude which characterizes one's outlook on life, his drive or determination to succeed, that aura of demeanor which often communicates without words, that inner person which prompts or determines life's values in conjunction with learned precepts and ideals.

It is sometimes thought of as a personal quality, as a spirit of bravery or fear, courage or timidity, love and concern, cooperation and kindness. Spirit has also been ascribed to frame of mind, disposition, mood, temper, vivacity, vigor or enthusiasm, as with school spirit.

In another sense there is the spirit of the world which controls or impinges on the human material aspects of life. Influences of avarice, hate, greed, lust, unless rejected, could become building blocks of an evil spirit.

In contrast is the Spirit of God. If your theme of life is to be "One In the Sprit," consider carefully! The Lord told Moses to choose Joshua (Num. 27:18) "a man in whom is the spirit (of God)." Elisha recognized the spirit of God in Elijah (II Kings 2:9) when he asked, "I pray you, let me inherit a double share of your spirit." Caleb's spirit differed with that of his companions who explored the promised land with him, and God said, "Caleb, because he has a different spirit and has followed me fully, I will bring into the land into which he went, and his descendents shall possess it." (Num. 14:24)

To be "one in the spirit" is to experience by faith the spirit of God "bearing witness with our spirit that we are the children of God . . ." (Rom. 8:16) and to recognize, "You are God's temple and that God's spirit dwells in you." (I Cor. 3:16)

Committment to God and fellowship with believers in a life of Christian service can fulfill God's plan for graduates to live "One In the Spirit."

FINANCIAL AID

What is the annual fund raising appeal? It is a yearly campaign to raise money to purchase various items and services necessary to run our school in the quality manner it has been run in the past. Items purchased can include various things from sports uniforms to audiovisual equipment.

The main source of these funds are parents and alumni. With the funds raised from these groups and other sources, the A.F.A. has also helped to keep the tuition low for the school.

Dr. Lunsford and Mrs. La Barre work closely to run this project. Mrs. La Barre, besides doing this, also serves as editor of "Commitment," the newspaper sent out to parents, alumni, and friends. Mrs. La Barre is kept busy doing many things including organizing banquets and other special events. She adds that personal touch to our thanks for each donation with her letters to each donor.

However, the main objective of the annual fundraising appeal is still to reach out to the community.

KEY PUNCHERS

As one rushes into the office, panic fills every part of one's body, the continuous, monotonous, clicking of the time clock almost pushes you over the edge into complete insanity when like a beacon on the night, a bright smile cuts through the gloom. The blessed words "Can I help you?" immediately subsides the panic.

Yes, it is the very foundation of our school, the secretaries. They fill their days by fixing boo-boo's, calming irate, hysterical parents and desperately trying to hold the office together as it begins to crumble before their eyes. They scurry skillfully filing, typing, and screening calls. Throughout the confusion, never once do they lose their caring qualities. Although they are continuously bombarded by wants and demands, never do they complain. Many of us take them for granted. Just think, what would we do without them?

TAKING CARE OF BUSINESS

The debris of seven hundred students, trampled flowers, and the trash of numerous lunches is scattered across the quad. One could imagine that if left unattended, our campus would one day be the site of an excellent archaeological dig. What prevents our campus from looking like New York City during a garbage strike or the landscape from being trampled beneath the student masses.

Each day our diligent custodial staff is confronted by the task of cleaning and maintaining the school. While students are away on vacation they continue to work.

The gardeners also work through the year making the campus attractive. The attractiveness of the campus can best be seen the week before classes begin, before numerous nutrition breaks, and lunch periods bring the accumulation of student waste and the resultant seagull squadron.

SPECIAL MESSAGES

Timothy McKay,
All my love forever and a day.

Katie

Dear Marci,

In your six years at LAB Dad and I have watched you grow in the Lord, make beautiful lasting friendships, and become a lovely young lady. We are very proud of you.

Love you, Mom and Dad

Thanks Lisa, Dawn, Robin, Nadine, Colleen, Jodie, Deanna, and Randy for being such great friends. I wish you all the best of luck with your futures, I know you'll all be successful in whatever you do. We better always keep in touch. Thanks Mom, Dad, and Lisa for being the greatest family anyone could ever ask for. You have always been there for me and I'm very grateful. Thanks for always making it easy for me to talk with you. Special thanks to Brad for bringing so much happiness into my life this past year. You are such a wonderful person, and I feel like the luckiest girl in the world to have you as my boyfriend. I look forward to our fantastic future together. You're all very special to me. I love you all very much.

Love always, Tammy

Dad, Mom, and Donna,

I could've never made it without your help, love, and understanding! I love you so, so much!

Kim

To Mom, Dad, Steven, and all my dear friends,

I love you all. Thank you for helping me make it through my rough years here. I owe you all so much. I wish the best to all of you.

Love always, Deanna

To All Knights Athletes,

Thank you so much for the support and special memories you have given each one of us. We wish you the very best in the future and may God bless each one of you!

The 1981-1982 Cheerleaders

Our smiles, tear, laughs, and fears are blessed memories forever! You're beautiful, Wen!

I love you, Connie

Dan,

With memories of all you've been,
With pride for all you are,
With hope for all you'll be,
And with love for always.

Mom

To Stefani and Misha and Kim,

Thank you so much for the times that you've been there. Your friendship is immeasurable. I'll never forget the times we've shared. Thank you so much.

Love always, Marcel

To Nan: (read in airhead voice) who has been my friend even though I'm so naive; to Christine, my fellow procrastinator; to Jill, I will never forget writing Mommy notes. Los Robles. Turn right. Do you think the smog will hurt the rhubarb?; to Adele, for your amusing notes in government and your sincere loyalty; to Mr. Neville, who never could explain the 16:1 ratio of gold and silver; to Mr. Mangnall, even though you are a commie liberal who has been misled about the French, to Juan, even though he never got the stuff; to Randy, who increased my vocabulary from its kindergarten level and put up with barretts; to Lanette, who went all the way with me through calculus and physics (tell me we weren't insane!); to Kathy, my partner in crime; to Shirley, the only person with a more devious and clever mind than my own: Thank you for being such special people that when I think of each one of you, I can call you "my friend." Love always, Cindy.

A mes chers amis de la classe de 1982 —

Félicitations! Vous avez (enfin?) réussi. Bientôt vous commencerez des nouvelles vies loin de LAB, mais restez assurés que je ne vous oublierai jamais! J'ai du mal à exprimer l'importance de la place que vous avez occupée dans ma vie. Nous avons pleuré, prié, et ri ensemble, et je crois que nous avons beaucoup appris, l'un de l'autre. Je vous remercie pour votre amour et pour toutes vos prières. Je vous aime beaucoup! Que Dieu vous bénisse maintenant et toujours.

Congratulations to the class of 1982. You did it! I am proud of you, and proud to have had the opportunity to know so many of you. I will certainly never forget our "piques-niques" and "meriendas," nor our many games of Bluff. May the Lord bless you now and in the exciting new lives which stand before you.

In Christ, Mrs. P. Stephenson

Dear Tammy,

The song title "You Light Up My Life" is how you are, you light up every one's heart, we thank God every day for a special girl so sweet and caring. We wish you Tammy and your classmates the best of success, also never forget who is with you always our Lord. With all our love Isaiah 41:10.

Mom, Dad, and Lisa

To the omnipresent and omniscient Chronicle Staff for all those wonderful days before deadline; To the Outer Mongolians — may the great Blue Ball always be with you; To Mr. Mangnall for setting me straight in the political realm, and vice-versa. To all the faculty and administration for six of the most vital years of my life, but especially to Mom, Dad, S.B., C.D., the P.R. group, Debbie and Ken. Thanks for helping me make it through.

I love you all lots, Shirley Brown

Dear Friends,

Thanks for sharing your friendship with me. Thanks Birdie for understanding and relating to everyday situations. I'll never forget the summer and the crazy times there after. Thanks Tamikins for being so loving. "You're such a cutie." Lisa, thanks for trying to make me happy. Co-leen, I'll always remember the times we thought your truck would break down. Jo and Na. "Hi girls." Deanna, we've been friends since 7th grade. Thanks for the good times. Randals, "you know." "Forget it." You're really special to me. Thanks for caring so much.

To all my dearest friends, thanks for letting me share a part of your lives. Each one of you, I care very much for. I'll always remember the good times and the support you've given me. Most of all, I'd like to thank Mom and Dad for giving me the opportunity to go to LAB.

Love, Dawn Moses

To all my beloved friends:

Babycakes, thank you so much for being there when I needed a friend and there was no one to turn to.

Dawnald, thank you for the laughter and joy you've brought me. May that joy and fun and our friendship last forever.

Smithbuddy, thank you for your never ending friendship and our never ending diets and phone calls.

Tam<sup>2</sup>, thank you for your smile and your deep concern for me, you're a dear sweet friend.

Jo and Na, though we have only begun our friendship this year, let's strive to keep it alive on into the future.

I love you all for everything that you have been and are to me. My only prayer is that I have been the same friend to you. God bless you all.

Love and friendship, Robin A.

Dear Mom and Dad,

Your love has guided and strengthened me and will in the years to come. I will always love you. Mere words can never really convey the feelings I have for you but it begins with, I Love You.

With Love in Christ, Karen Marie

Dear Trina,

You were a special gift sent from heaven. You've always made us very proud of you. Our hearts are filled with pride. Stay close to the Lord.

Love forever, Mother and Dad

This special message is just that. A message to the most special people ever. You've all been so loving and supportive. Sometimes I don't know what I would've done without you.

Colleen and Lisa, you guys are always behind me, you never seemed to stop caring (even through aerobics at Pam's)!

Dawnold and Bobbin, you two are always so cheerful, it makes me happy just to be around you.

Tam-Tam, I've always felt I could come to you with anything and you'd care. (But really hon, they don't hide dead bodies in coat linings.)

Last, but not least, Yo-Yo, God blessed me with the spiciest friend I could ever hope for. Just remember, Horton, this isn't the end. Our friendship and "the book" will go on forever!

I love ya all deeply. Remember that always.

God Bless Ya, Na

Dear Lisa,

You have always been a special gift from God to us. We love you and pray that you will always have God first in your life.

Love, Mom and Dad

Thank you so much for the terrific yearbook staff of 1982.

To Greg Schwatz,

The Lord has given us His richest blessing — You. Our hope is that you will always love and obey Him.

Your Parents

Sharolyn,

As this year gently becomes a memory we pray you'll continue reaching with anticipation toward the future and all God's prepared for you. Grow in His love.

Mom and Dad

SPECIAL MESSAGES

To Weasel and Eor,

This year has been really different for us. I'm sure we will never forget the people we met and things we learned.

I love you both, Tweety

Leonard,

God has given us ourselves, and tools to help us continually grow. You're a great person and we love you.

Mom and Serge

All my love and best wishes to Tammy, Dawn, Lisa S., Robin, Colleen, Nancy, Robin S., Randy, and Paul B.

Thank you Nadine for being the best friend a person could have. God bless you for always being there and caring. You are all very special to me and I thank God for your Friendships.

I'll always remember the fun times we've had and the laughter we've shared. Thank you Mr. Hild, for being a very special person and a real inspiration to me. Thank you Mom and Dad for loving me and caring enough to sacrifice of yourselves to give me a good education. God bless you always. I love you both. Most of all, I thank Jesus for making all things possible.

All my love in Christ, Jodie

Mom and Dad,

Thanks so much for all your love and support. You are very special to me.

I love you, Jill

Myra Watts,

You taught me the importance of being honest with myself. Thank you so much for all your time and love.

Love ya, Jill

AE, CD, KT, NS, BM, JS,

Thank you for the great friendships. You all have helped me to grow in so many ways and I've learned a lot from you all. You are very special to me.

I love you, Jill

To my family and friends,

"Well I made it folks." it took six years, but I finally made it this far. I just want to thank you Mom and Dad for putting up with me for so long. But your work finally paid off. "I love you." Also to all my friends Gina, Mark, Scott, Mike, Virgil, and all the others, thank you for being there when I needed friends. I wish to all of you the best that life can offer you.

Thanx a lot, Newton Ruiz

To April Winter,

As you face each year's challenges, may you always see what your life is worth. We're proud of you.

Love, Mom and Dad

Iris,

This is your biggest step in life. We know you will succeed. Mom and Dad wish you good luck. GOD will be with you.

Nicholine,

You carry with you, always, all our love and prayers for your success.

Mom and Dad

Dearest Misha,

As you journey into your next stage in life always keep the happiness God has given you. You are so full of love, life, and laughter, and we thank God that when he made little girls he gave you to us. We are so proud of you, and we love you dearly. Stay close to the Lord always.

All our love, Mom, Dad, and Shane

Dearest Chandra,

Thank you so much for your understanding, love, and friendship. Your friendship means so much to me. Remember me always. I love you.

All my love, Earline

Dear Stefani

Congratulations on your High School graduation. We thank God for your sweet spirit that brings joy to our lives. He gave you an irrepressible enthusiasm and the inquisitiveness of a racoon. Look out world — our Stefani's coming!

Mom, Dad, and Denise

Dearest Adee, Shoil, Cindy, Lanette, Lisa, and Na,

Well we finally made it and I miss you guys already. We've changed and grown a lot and I love each of you so terribly much. Let's never forget the good times we've had, but then, who could forget chanting in the student store at lunch? To all my other friends, I wish I could name you all personally because you are all so special to me. Who else could put up with, "Are there guns on boats?" I'll always treasure the memories we've shared from eggrolls in Student Council to singing together in choir and PR. God has blessed me through my friends. May God bless you in the future. I love you. Last but not least, mommy and daddy, I love you both so much. Thank you for all you've done.

Love always, Christine Suh

Dear Rocky,

We're so very proud of you. Thanks for the years of pleasure you've given us. "Commit your works to the Lord and your plans will be established."

Pr. 16:3

Love, Mom and Dad

Dear Kimberly,

We thank God for blessing us with such a fine daughter. In all ways acknowledge Him. Eph. 4:32

Love, Mom and Dad

Mr. Hild and Miss Noblitt,

Thank you for all your help with college scholarship applications, etc. . . . I appreciate it so much. Your classes have been the best and most fun for me to be in this year. Thank you for all your encouragement. I'll miss you both. God be with you.

Lisa Raymond

Mom and Dad,

Thank you so much for giving me this education. You had to make a lot of sacrifices for me just because you love me. You have given me something that can never be taken away. I love you!

Love, Sheri

To Cindy with love,

Today, Tomorrow, Forever. We are very proud of you. May your future be filled with happiness.

Dad, Mom, and Chris

Stefani and Marcel,

These years I've spent with you at L.A.B. have been filled with so much. Things like wrestling in P.E., going out to eat, or just acting crazy are memories I don't want to forget. I love you both and want to thank you for being my very special friends.

Love Kimberly

Nets,

Boy, I don't know what life would be like without someone attacking me in the halls and hysterically relating a disaster! I hope you're appreciated in Nebraska. If anyone ever know how to find beauty in life, it's you. You're a powerful witness, a wonderful friend (and slightly eccentric). Don't ever change. You have to be my maid of honor, remember? So don't disappear from the face of the earth next year, and don't forget You back here.

In Christ, Adee

Jill and Cindy,

PORC LIPS! Myrus Caesar lives. Don Joowan had his knees removed so he went to Jamaica where Mom kept house for him. But then Patty came and took Mom away from him and spoiled all of his carefully laid plans. So now he is back in Hildabeast territory with a C.S.A. with I.E. in charge of twisting his mind, but he always remembered that the answer is five. So even if a fat, bald man, telling Emmanuelle jokes, tries to corrupt him, he knows that he'll never go wrong if he doesn't do the "D" thing, or take the road less traveled by.

This has been a tale, told by an idiot, full of sound and fury, signifying nothing. It has been brought to you by the B.B.S. and will be close captioned for the vision impaired.

Best of everything, Adee

To the class of nineteen eighty two

I say:

"Ka papa a ka mau kanawalu."

In spite of L.E.'s

You're still leaving me?

How can I say anything but, Phew!

You were rife with base Francophiles

Who should be guillotined at Versailles

Though my rhyme may be bad

It is not quite as sad

As you who follow Madame DeFarge's vile style.

Like Macbeth, this year was a tale

Full of sound, fury, and gale.

From the Oyarsa bent,

You must have been sent

As a Polonius crouched neath the veil.

Feeling like a target for Khadaffi's hit list

I found Government take a strange twist

For "Legion" possessed

All but the best

Yet once exorcised you'll be missed.

Affectionately, R. Mangnall

*At "The Church On The Way" our deepest desire toward all believers is to communicate the love of Jesus Christ in the Spirit of the Word of God—that we may be "all one" as our Savior prayed. . .
John 17:21*

"The Church On The Way" is an interdenominational fellowship in association with the International Church of the Foursquare Gospel. We are "foursquare" in the full meaning of the word: i.e., forthright, unequivocating, solidly and boldly presenting a firm stand. Our firm stand pertains to the elements of the Gospel of Jesus Christ. In a day when a diluted message is producing deluded people, we stress a thoroughgoing proclamation of the Word of God, emphasizing the four essential ministries of the Lord Jesus to those who will believe:

Jesus Christ the Savior — John 3:16; Acts 4:12

Jesus Christ the Baptizer — Mark 1:8; Acts 2:4

Jesus Christ the Healer — Hebrews 13:8; James 5:14-15

Jesus Christ the Coming King — John 14:3; I Thessalonians 4:16-17

Dearest Rob,

You are such a sweetie!
I am so glad that i had the chance to get to know you better & become your friend
this year. You are one fun guy to be around & i want to thank you for making math class "baralle"! You really have a lot going for you & i know you are going to do a great job as our school President next year. Congratulations again!! I hope your summer is absolutely wonderful & never let go of that great "Carol" spirit! I can't wait for next year cuz i know that we're gonna be the best senior class that ever hit L.A.B., i'm sure you'll be a big part of that too. You're great, Rob & you really have a lot going for you. I pray you'll always use it for the Lord! Thanks again for being so special! Stay crazy always ok?

I Love You a whole bunch,

THE SOURCE

Dear Rob (Beatrice),

I don't know how I could ever begin to thank you for such a wonderful friend you have been to me. You have the funniest and most irradiating personality of anyone I have ever known - which always brightens my day even more. I want you to know that AS Long AS I Live I will never forget the fun time we had together at the banquet. I feel very privileged to be able to go w/ you. You have got to be the funniest date! You must stop associating w/ men who read penthouse magazines on park benches and admire your bouquets. And next time you yell out the window while driving in a car make sure all of the windows are rolled up or else loosen your seat belt so that you can sleep down underneath the dashboard in order to be safe! That night (May 7th) is my best memory that I have had from high school and I will never forget it. And why won't you ever carry my purse down Ocean Blvd again? Maybe you'll start a new feud! I have never laughed so hard in my entire life as when I saw you dancing along the Blvd w/ my purse. I hope we have some classes together <sup>next</sup> year - especially govt. so that I can watch you take over the class. I am SO happy that you won the office of Pres. you'll be the best president our school has ever; I will ever have. This will give you experience for the office you will be holding later on - President of the United States! Well, I hope to see you over the summer, and I hope you have a good one too.

Love Always
Janet.

ROB-

WELL WHAT CAN I SAY? THESE YEARS - OUR TOWN, MRS. OWENS,
P.E., PUBLIC RELATIONS CAMPAIGN, ....

I CAN'T STAND YOUR BUTS.

P.S. I'M HALF DAN
JOKING. YOU ARE REALLY A TALENTED STIEFF
INDIVIDUAL. I'LL KEEP IN TOUCH.

WE HAVE TO GO SEE BONNY.....
GOOD LUCK IN LIFE.

Dear Rob,
Well it has been a great year and I am really glad that we are on Student Council next year. It will be an awesome senior year!
Remember to always trust in God - especially in your position as Pres. He'll never fail you!
Love in Christ,

Rob darling,

Your presence has brought immense pleasure to ~~my~~ my inner-most soul this past year. We enjoyed your physical being during lunches except when you are disgusting. Remember to always hate me -

John Dunson

Rob,

It was a really
good year, wasn't it?
I had a good time
getting to know you better. It all went fine. Next year if I'm allowed to talk to you, Mr. President, we'll have an even better time. Have a great summer, and
I'll see you next year.

Your pal,
Jeff

Elvira,

I have had so much fun w/ you this year. I will never forget you & Jan., after the banquet. It was so fun!
I am looking forward to Thursday
it will be fun. I hope you have a super summer and watch out wild women.
(not to mention Democratic wild women). See ya later.

Love Krys
Spore

Dear Rob,
What a year! It was really neat getting
to know you better.
You are always an encouragement to me.

God bless you and Dear Rob, good luck next year as Pres! You've meant so much to me! Keep up the good

Love Always, witness and encouragement.

Nancy I pray that over the summer, you will accomplish your goals and grow stronger in the Lord! May God bless you and become more glorious in your sight as you seek

Psalm 42:1

to serve Him!
Love in Christ,
Bruce

Dear Rob,

Thanks for making
History bearable, w/o
your stupid jokes it
would have been a drag.
May God Bless you over
The Summer. Remember

"What you are is God's gift to you, what you make of yourself is your gift to God"

Love Always,
